

HOW TO MAKE AN ORANGE JULIUS

Have any of you guys ever tried an Orange Julius from Dairy Queen? The first one I ever had was at the Dairy Queen/ Orange Julius in Lincoln Square, Chicago 2 years ago. It rocked my world and inspired me to make my own. So here I am 2 years later, sipping an icy fresh homemade Orange Julius on a hot summer day. I enjoyed it a lot, so I hope you will too.

INGREDIENTS:

6 ounces (3/4 cup) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
1 cup milk (whole or low fat)
1 cup water
1/4 cup + 1 tablespoon granulated white sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
9 ice cubes

DIRECTIONS:

Place all of the ingredients in a blender. Blend until creamy. Divide the mixture between 4 glasses. Add straws and sip away!
